

Andrew Workman (He/Him)

awstaginglighting@outlook.com • (540) 294-1424 • awlightingdesign.com

OBJECTIVE

A summary of relevant and past work as a Lighting Designer and Stage Lighting Electrician. Drew is a motivated and well-communicative artist with a passion for bringing the stage to life through the means of lighting. He has a proficient understanding of operating within the context of stage lighting, including, but not limited to, drafting in current versions of Vectorworks, running focus calls, patching and programming in ETC environments, and ensuring the safe handling and hanging of lighting fixtures.

EDUCATION

James Madison University - Harrisonburg VA 2021-2025

Bachelor of Arts in Theatre and a concentration in Design and Technology

DESIGN EXPERIENCE

Lighting Designer – Get Happy! A Celebration of the World's Greatest Entertainer by Jenna Pastuszek July 2025

University of Virginia's Virginia Theatre Festival

Lighting Designer – The Antipodes October 2024 – April 2025

James Madison University's School of Theatre and Dance

Lighting Designer – Mr. Burns: A Post-Electric Play April 2024 – October 2024

James Madison University's Stratford Players

Associate Lighting Designer – The SpongeBob Musical December 2023 – March 2024

James Madison University's School of Theatre and Dance

Assistant Lighting Designer -- (Anon)ymous October 2023 – November 2023

James Madison University's School of Theatre and Dance

ELECTRICIAN EXPERIENCE

Theater Technical Assistant August 2025 - Present

Washington & Lee University

Summer Stock Electrician (Assistant Head Elec. 2025) June 2024 – July 2025

University of Virginia's Virginia Theatre Festival

Electrics Shop Assistant January 2022 – May 2025

James Madison University's School of Theatre and Dance

SKILLS

Intermediate ETC Interface Programming

Drafting/Reading Vectorworks Light Plots

Intermediate Computer Troubleshooting

Leadership and Facilitation

Clear and in-depth communication skills

VA Licensed Driver

Creation of standardized Lightwright paperwork